GARRET DAVIS AND POSICEON, When GARRET DAVIS AND POSIEROY. When one day, weary with the cares of starry the Senator from Kentucky was smoozing in his chaft, his name was enlist to vote, reighbor punched his ribs and said, wake np. Mr. Davis, your name is called. Haif unconsciously the Kentuckian acose and essked the Vice-President what they were voting on. The reighbor they were el manner of his. What is the amount of stealing befor Lvate is the amount of stealing is this bill. Whereupon the great and good Pomeroy arose, his face beaming god Pomeroy arose, his face beaming all over with the smites only a clear considered and sold: "If the senter from Kentucky will permit me Senter from Kentucky will permit me Senter from Kentucky will permit me less than the senter from Kentucky will permit me senter from Kentucky will permit me Senter repair. I have thoroughly in-used ated the bill, sir, and assure you if there is any stealing in it I cannot find an "All right, Mr. President," re-sponded Senator Davis "if the Semator from Kansa can't find any stealage, I am satisfied there is none there."

Outsix of Erizootic.-The vegetable origin of the horse disease is the sub-ject of a paper in the American Natural-ist, by Mr. Moorehouse, of New York. ist by Mr Moorehouse, of New Mork.
He examined the matter exuding from the nestrils of the affected animals; and, besies the regular pus, found no less than three kinds of vegetable organisms, all in states of vigorous development,
One was a species of minute lichen, known as Urceolaria scruposa. These were in every form of development, there being hundreds of fragments in a single drop. Another was an unknown periss of Aspergillus, also giving evi-ace of propagation and growth. The aid form was an unknown species, not third form was an anknown species, not hitherto described. In order to prove that these spores were floating in the atmos-phere, they were caught, on moistened glass in the atmosphere in the vicinity of the disease. This brings the atmos-pheric and vegetable origin of this disse hearer to demonstration; but yet does not prove it, as the atmostpheric regetable spores may have simply found a favorable nidus in which to germinate in the mucous matter given off by the

How a MURDERER WAS DISCOVERED. How a Mundered was Discovered.—
The merest chance has led to the discovery of the murderer of the agent of the People's Bank in Florence, In making a post mortem examination of the corpes of Rugiu the doctor observed that one hand was firmly closed. He opened it not without difficulty, and found it contained some hairs of a red beard. This was a revelation. It became evident that the unfortunt of Rugiu, in struggling with his assassins, had seized one gling with his assassins, had seized one of them by the beard. The next step was to discover what individual having series to Ragin's house wore a red beard. It was then remembered that the servant of Rugin had a lover, a dyer, named Bergamaschi, whose hair was red. named hergamaschi, whose hair was red. He was arrested, and his house searched. Under a stove nearly a thousand francs were discovered, and several portions of clothing were found to be stained with

A Witzinson county (Ga.) man became convinced the other day that a woman's temper is very irregular. He had ben mouiding some bullets, and had neglected to cool off the ladle in which the lead had been melted. While he was counting the bullets his wife came man was made aware that something had happened by catching an adjacent coffee-mill on the bridge of his nose. The unhappy wife and mother had taken the picture sque mode of informing him that she had picked up the ladie by the RATHER an inefficient teaher was that who, in Haverhill, Mass., underlook to chastise a boy pupil. She found lerself unequal to the task, as the boy same very near chastising her. She called in the lad's father to assist, his tremendous youngster proved too buch for both of them. Milder mensures were adopted, and finally the youth consented to take his flogging, if he could have his choice from a litter of pupples in the neighborhood.
